

HUGH NEWELL TRIAL STARTED IN CHECK CASE

Alleged Adventurer Deported by Mexico Faces Court on Charge by Bankers.

Hugh Newell, adventurer and ex-convict, went on trial today on the charge of uttering a fictitious check. He is alleged to have cashed a check for $50, drawn on the Security Savings Bank of Riverside, through the First National Bank of Oakland, on January 22, 1919. Since that time Newell has served two years in Sing Sing prison for grand larceny.

Newell, arrested upon his release from prison, failed to show up when his case came to trial on October 23, 1921, having fled to Mexico. He was deported by Mexico as an undesirable alien and was arrested at Nogales, Arizona, as he crossed the border, on order of Sheriff Frank Harne.

According to information in the hands of District Attorney Ezra Decoto, it was Newell's practice to present a draft at a bank, drawn on some distant city, and then proceed to draw checks against the draft. When the draft was returned Newell would make good by drawing another draft. The Riverside bank, growing tired of Newell's practice, on January 21, 1919, mailed him a cashier's check for $2.03, the amount of his balance, with a letter declaring the bank did not care to have an account conducted in such a manner. The penalty for the offense with which Newell is charged is a maximum of one year in the county jail.

W. C. T. U. Service Stars Are Displayed in Oakland Homes

The W. C. T. U. "Service Flag" which has roused the ire of the American Legion because of its resemblance to the service flag. It indicates temperance in practice for the householders where it is displayed.

Flags Objected to by War Veterans Are Shown for Temperance

While the controversy between the American Legion and the Women's Christian Temperance Union continues to war over the latter organization's "service stars," these insignia of "total abstinence" are finding their way into the windows of local homes.

The "service star" is a placard containing a huge star beneath which are the words "Serve America. Support the Constitution." The American Legion posts throughout the country immediately interpreted the placard to mean that the service flag was being used to advertise prohibition and uniformly went on record that "it is an insult to the men who fought in the late war and to their relations and friends who, in their honor displayed such flags."

Representatives of the W. C. T. U., notably Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, member of the national board of organizers, expressed the opinion that the placard with which the legionaries had received news of the campaign was "based on a misunderstanding." Mrs. Kemp said that the placards were to be displayed in homes "where people believe in the constitution and the enforcement of all laws just as they did in the war years."

Joseph Palmer, 70 years old, is recovering today from being overcome by gas. Constable Tom Carroll went to visit Palmer at his home, 2842 East Twenty-sixth street, yesterday morning. He detected the odor of gas and went into the house and carried Palmer, who is an invalid, to the street. He was taken to the Emergency hospital. The police who investigated the case believe that the gas jet was opened accidentally.

sire to devote himself to literature. Shortly after his return to England the distinguished scholar was elevated to the peerage, being created Viscount of Dechmont.

At the age of 76 years, when the European war broke out, Viscount Bryce enlisted the service of his country by accepting an appointment as chairman of a special commission to investigate alleged atrocities committed by the Germans in their invasion of Belgium. The result was a voluminous report sustaining the opinion of the commission, the charges that the Germans had committed innumerable violations of the laws of humanity in Belgium. Throughout the conflict, the famous statesman, diplomat and author was active in many other efforts to ameliorate the condition of war victims, notably the Armenians and Poles. In 1917 details of what were known as the "Bryce scheme" for a League to Enforce Peace were made public. They antedated by some two years, Lord Bryce indicated, the proposal advocated by former President Wilson and out of these and other discussions grew the League of Nations.

The author of "The American Commonwealth," whom former Premier Balfour once called "the greatest living authority on the American Constitution," brought out another work in April, 1921, a two-volume book on "Democracy." It was a monumental effort for a man of 83 years and was largely devoted to a comparative study of America, as well as to an analysis of its press, its party politics and the history of its popular institutions.

Lord Bryce's own story of how he came to write "The American Commonwealth" was told by him at a Pilgrim Society dinner in New York some years ago. He had received an invitation to visit here in 1870, but his actual contact with this country was had through only three "lying visits," as he called them before he wrote his book.

Bryce Well Known To Many Berkeleyans

BERKELEY, Jan. 23.—The death of Viscount James Bryce strikes personal sorrow to many Berkeleyans in particular. Viscount Bryce has been honorary vice-president of the Sierra Club, California outdoor organization, for ten years. He was a close personal friend of Dr. F. V. Coville, president of the Sierra Club and also acting president of the Pacific School of Religion. Only recently, in writing to Dr. Bada, he sent his greetings to friends in the Sierra Club. "When the club recently urged the support of its members to the interests of the movement to save California redwoods," Bryce wrote Dr. Bada as follows: "I am greatly grieved to hear of the danger the redwoods are in and will gladly join the Save the Redwood League. Will you please have me entered as a member and tell me how I can best send my subscription."

Aside from his nature-loving activities, Viscount Bryce was known in Berkeley as the deliverer of the annual series of Earl lectures in 1909, when he appeared in the college city under the auspices of the Pacific School of Religion.

In 1912, after visiting Australia and New Zealand, Viscount Bryce spent the only evening of his visit in San Francisco as a guest of the directors of the Sierra Club at a reception at the University Club.

HARDING FAVORS ST. LAWRENCE, LAKES WATERWAY

President Tells Agricultural Conference of Feasibility of Project.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Attended by approximately 300 delegates representing agriculture in all its phases, and the industries related to farming, the National Agricultural Conference was convened here today by Secretary Wallace and immediately heard from President Harding a declaration of interest and sympathy by the administration in the present plight of the nation's farmers, together with a series of suggestions for remedying existing conditions.

"Feasibility of the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterways project is unquestioned," President Harding said. "I have spoken of the advantage which Europe enjoys because of its easy access to the sea, the cheapest and surest transportation facility. In our own country is presented one of the world's most attractive opportunities for extension of the seaways many hundreds of miles inland."

"WOULD STIMULATE TRADE." "The heart of the continent, with its vast resources in both agriculture and industry would be brought in communication with all the ocean routes by the St. Lawrence waterway project. To enable ocean-going vessels to have access to all the ports of the Great Lakes would have a most stimulating effect upon the industrial life of the continent's interior."

"The feasibility of the project is unquestioned, and its costs, compared with some other great engineering works, would be small. Disorganized and prostrate, the nations of Central Europe are even now setting their hands to the development of a great continental waterway, which, connecting the Rhine and Danube, will bring water transportation from the Black to the North Sea, from the Mediterranean to the Baltic."

"WITH WORLD MARKETS." "If nationalistic prejudice and economic differences can be overcome by Europe they certainly should not be formidable obstacles to an achievement less expensive and giving promise of yet greater advantages to the peoples of North America. Not only would the cost of transportation be greatly reduced, but a vast population would be brought overnight in immediate touch with the markets of the entire world."

"QUESTIONS OUTLINED." The President, in touching upon the agricultural situation in detail, but without attempting to dictate the course of the conference discussions outlined a half dozen broad questions. These briefly include:

Practical development of the water resources of the country, both for transportation and power including plans for electrification of the nation's railroads. Development of a thorough code of law and business procedure, with the proper machinery of finance through some agency to insure that the turn over of capital shall be as generously supplied to the farmer and on as reasonable terms as to other industries.

Formation of co-operative loaning, buying and selling associations. Creation of instrumentalities for collection and distribution of useful and true information so as to prevent violent fluctuations of markets.

Methods for bringing about further reclamation, rehabilitation and extension of the agriculture area. Promotion of a new conception of the farmer's place in the national social and economic scheme.

MAN TO MAN

Dick regarded Brown for some time as he sat and wrote out the necessary papers. "I wonder," Dick thought, "how the dickens he dresses so well. Doesn't get the salary I do, because he told me." His gaze roved from his friend's collar to his brown suit down to his shoes, then to the natty hat and warm overcoat on the chair.

Seemingly to understand Dick's thoughts, Brown looked up. "You notice the new duds I see, old chap. Looks like I blew a hundred bucks or two on them, but I didn't. I went out to Cherry's, at 523 13th street. Good values, old man, and still you get credit." Cherry's store for women is at 515 12th street.—Advertisement.

U. S. RAIL BOARD PAY SLASH HITS CLERKS, AGENTS

Millions of Dollars Cut From Wages in the Revision of Hours, Overtime.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Millions of dollars have been slashed today from the pay of railway clerks, freight handlers and station agents employed by the United States railroad labor board. The board announced sweeping changes in wartime working agreements.

Eight hours remains as the working day, but time and a half will not be paid until after the ninth hour. The railroads were also authorized to employ men on "split shifts."

Thus, in small towns, workers can be employed intermittently during any eight of twelve hours instead of working eight consecutive hours. The three members of the board representing the carriers dissented because it was not decided to pay overtime after ten hours instead of nine.

Union officials refused comment pending study of the decision.

MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY WINS HOME IN U. S. A.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—McGregor Ross, a Scott radical by predilection no longer is a man without a country. A decision of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals giving him the right to remain in the United States has been received at the Ellis Island immigration station. He is now living near Seattle.

Arrested as a red advocate during the war, Ross was ordered deported, but was held prisoner at Ellis Island for more than a year. Arrangements were made to deport him to Scotland, but the British government refused to receive him. The court has ruled that as Great Britain refused to admit Ross as a native of Scotland, the right to deport did not include any right of indefinite improvement "under the guise of awaiting an opportunity for deportation."

The ruling also specified that in the future aliens held longer than four months in similar cases will be classed as unlawful prisoners and may get relief by habeas corpus.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Morris Altman, somnambulist, walked to his death while asleep here early today.

Altman, attired in night clothes, stepped through a French window in his home on Bixel street and fell to a concrete arway below. He was instantly killed.

On December 27, Altman was attacked by two bandits, clubbed into unconsciousness and robbed of $700. The money was the property of the Poppy Silk company, with which Altman was associated.

Red Cross Starts Relief for Poor Children in San Leandro

FLORENCE MASON, daughter of Mrs. B. F. Mason of the San Leandro Red Cross, goes on a mission of mercy

Blankets, Clothing and Food Are to Be Given to Unemployed

Under the direction of Mrs. B. F. Mason, chairman of the San Leandro chapter of the American Red Cross, relief work started in that city today for the families of the unemployed. The Red Cross is making plans to supply blankets, clothing, shoes and food to the unfortunate and to pay the rent in cases where this phase is also necessary.

In order to raise additional funds to carry on the campaign of relief, Mrs. Mason is formulating plans for an entertainment to be given by the San Leandro chapter in the immediate future.

"Conditions in San Leandro are getting deplorable," said Mrs. Mason today. "The manager of the city park told me that children are coming into the park and hunting around in the garbage cans for something to eat."

"In another home we found six small children sitting around a table, the meal consisting of a small bowl of bread soaked in tea."

"The preliminary investigation showed that there are 150 children in San Leandro without proper clothing, and it is the task of the Red Cross committee to outfit them as soon as possible."

Among the contributions to the Blue Bird Bureau of The TRIBUNE this morning to aid in the unemployment situation in Oakland was a pathetic document enclosing three times.

Written in a childish scrawl on a single sheet of paper, the letter was as follows:

"From two little boys to buy milk for a little baby girl."

That the firemen's ball for the benefit of the unemployed in Oakland will be a success is already assured by the preliminary sale of tickets, according to Fire Chief Sam Short. The tickets are being sold by members of the department and associates in the civil service association.

The California Male Quartet, which will be known in the future as the Golden State quartet, will sing at the ball, according to announcement today. The members of the singing organization are Jennings Pierce, first tenor; Phillip Ashcraft, second tenor; Harry Borchert, baritone; and Scott Beebe, basso.

This afternoon, Dr. Frank M. Slesley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and president of the Ministers' Union, announced that a special meeting had been called for 1 o'clock next Thursday at the Y. M. C. A. to discuss the unemployment problem.

At this meeting, according to Dr. Slesley, an attempt will be made by the clergy to work out some definite means of relieving the distress caused by the failure of heads of families to find steady employment.

Arbuckle Trial End Is in Sight

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Continued examination of fingerprints upon a door of the suite occupied by Roscoe Arbuckle at the Hotel Arbuckle at the Hotel St. Francis was in prospect when the trial of the comedian on a charge of manslaughter arising from the death of Virginia Rappe resumed today.

E. Heinrich, professor in criminology at the University of California, was to complete his testimony. It is the contention of the prosecution that fingerprints upon the door are those of Arbuckle and Miss Rappe made during a struggle. The state is expected to conclude its case when the examination of Mr. Heinrich has been completed.

New Vessel Sinks; Crew Is Picked Up

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—A wireless message to the naval communications bureau today said all of the thirty-four members of the Norwegian freighter Mod, which sank in mid-Atlantic, were aboard the British freighter Melrose Head. The Mod on maiden voyage left New York January 4.

The liner George Washington, which went to the aid of the Mod when a wireless S. O. S. was received yesterday, reported that no sign of the freighter could be found at the location given in the vessel's radio.

The following message was sent out by the steamer Centennial State yesterday:

"S. O. S. Norway steamer Mod, latitude 46.15 north, longitude 41.10 west, sinking. All lifeboats gone; propeller gone."

The Mod was the latest word in marine construction, having one of the few electrically driven freighters in the seven seas.

THOUSANDS PAY HOMAGE AT POPE'S BIER

THOUSANDS PAY HOMAGE AT BIER OF DEAD PONTIFF

Body of Prelate Laid to Rest After Lying in State at St. Peter's.

versed so that the pontiff's private chaplains and secretaries could follow immediately after the body.

On its way to St. Peter's the procession traversed the royal ducal hall, the Raphael Lodge, the royal stairway and finally the Sistine chapel.

The canons of St. Peter's were assembled at chapel this morning to receive the body of the Pope from the Vatican dignitaries. They at once removed the white robes and dressed the dead pontiff in the high official robes which Pope Benedict wore when officiating at the most solemn services.

Then, because of Pope Benedict's wish that his body should not be embalmed, it was decided to consider only the short ceremony of lying in state.

Ordinarily, the body, placed on an ebony stand near enough to the grille of the chapel to allow the faithful to be kissed by the faithful, would have been left for 24 to 48 hours.

Meanwhile, thousands who had crowded into the basilica had sacramental chaplains and the body of the late pontiff, which was guarded by two noble guards and near which canons of St. Peter's kept up an endless recital of prayers for the dead.

The burial this afternoon will be in the nature of temporary interment until a tomb shall have been prepared in the church chosen by Pope Benedict for his final resting place.

The Sacred College held the first of its daily sessions this morning. These sessions will continue until after the funeral of the Pope and up to February 2, when the conclave for election of a new pope will be held.

Owing to numerous vacancies on account of recent deaths, which Pope Benedict had planned to fill at the recent consistory, the Sacred college, which will elect a new pontiff, is now composed of only 61 members. Thirty-one of these are Italians, two Americans and one Canadian. The latter three were not expected to reach Rome in time for the opening of the conclave, when the cardinals will be walled up. The wall may be later torn down to admit them, however, if they arrive before the election is determined.

The Sacred college met early today in the Hall of Parapets in the Vatican. The dean of the college presided. Owing to several cardinals from outside the Vatican, the dean warned of the approach of the Pope's demise, many who would not otherwise have been present at the first sessions were on hand. Others will arrive daily.

The secretary of breaking the seals of Benedict XV followed. Monsignor Respighi, prefect of ceremonies, approached the dean and received from him the fisherman's ring which had been taken from Pope Benedict's hand, the official pronouncement of death.

At the same time, the dean of the Vatican state chancery brought the seal with which Pope Benedict had authenticated papal bulls and briefs. The seals and the ring were then broken with a heavy hammer and fragments shown to the cardinals as evidence that Benedict's reign was at an end.

Eastbay Churches Plan Tribute to Dead Pontiff

Special services in memory of the late Pope Benedict XV will be held in all Catholic churches of the Eastbay this week. Yesterday all churches were dressed in mourning, with altars draped in black and white crepe. The sermon at each of the masses was based upon the life of the late pope, telling of his good works and the influential part he played in the world's history. Prayers for the departed pontiff and that guidance be given to his successor were said also.

For the most part services in memory of the passing of the pontiff will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, according to an announcement made today. Services will consist of a solemn high mass and sermon at St. Francis de Sales church, and of a solemn high mass at St. Mary's.

Monsignor Patrick Ryan, vicar-general of the Archdiocese of San Francisco, sent out the following letter to all of the pastors of churches in the archdiocese:

Rev. and Dear Father:

It is with deep regret that I announce the death of our beloved Sovereign Pontiff, Pope Benedict XV.

I know that the tidal love of priests and people for our holy Father will manifest itself in a touching manner to God to grant eternal rest to his soul. Over and above this, it is the wish of His Grace, the Most Reverend Archbishop, that the churches be suitably draped in mourning and at least a solemn requiem mass or at least a Missa Cantata, be celebrated in all churches of the archdiocese on a day consecrated to priests and people, preferably the day of the funeral in Rome.

During the interregnum the prayer "Pro eligendo Summo Pontifice" will be added in all the masses when permitted by the rubrics.

PATRICK L. RYAN, Vicar-General.

K. of C.'s Plan $1,000,000 Memorial for Dead Pope

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The Knights of Columbus will undertake a $1,000,000 memorial for Pope Benedict XV, Supreme Knight James H. Flaherty announced yesterday when he informed of the pontiff's death.

"The death of Pope Benedict," he said, "is a personal loss to every one of the 800,000 members of the Knights of Columbus. He was the first supreme pontiff to personally commission the Knights of Columbus to perform definite work and we shall make that work a memorial to him."

"One of the last desires he expressed before his fatal illness was that the Knights of Columbus should commence their Italian welfare work at the earliest possible moment. His wish will be carried out. Requiem masses for the repose of Pope Benedict will be celebrated under the auspices of Knights of Columbus councils throughout the country, Supreme Secretary W. J. McGinley announced. The Knights of Columbus international board of directors called Cardinal Gasparri a messenger of condolence expressing the filial sorrow of every member of the organization.

Burial Chamber of Slain Aztec Warrior Is Found

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The tomb of a prehistoric warrior who apparently fell in combat has been discovered in the ruins of a large Pueblo community dwelling near Aztec, New Mexico, which is being explored by the American Museum of Natural History. A description of the burial chamber has been received from Earl H. Morris, in charge of the work of excavation.

"Beneath the debris adjacent to the famous painted room opened in 1920 there has been found a second chamber, perfectly preserved in every detail," he writes. In it was found the warrior's remains.

"The skeleton of a warrior over six feet and an inch in height and death had come to the stalwart defender of the village when he was in the prime of life and in the height of his glory as well. The frame had been wrapped in a blanket of feather cloth and enshrouded with a mat of woven rush stems. Within easy grasp of the right hand were the wooden handles of two stone battle axes, and by them a chipped knife of quartzite, as well as a haft of flint and prongs of antler—the materials and implements for arrow-making. A circular shield three feet in diameter, unlike anything previously found in Pueblo ruins, covered the warrior from thighs to temples.

"A fallen chamber not far distant from the warrior's tomb contained thirteen skeletons. Twelve, those of nine children and three aged persons, were in no wise unusual, but the thirteenth was one of the most extraordinary which has come to light in the entire ruins. The remains were those of an old woman who had been wrapped and bound in the usual burial position, and then placed in one corner of a broken ceiling timber had been hewn to a point, then driven completely through pelvis and well into the earth beneath. Blows of a stone hammer beat the head of the stake to a pulp before the point would sink to the desired depth. It is probable that an old crone who had fallen into disfavor in the village—perhaps a witch—was subjected to this cruel form of torture and execution."

The fact that the chancellor is a bachelor may have led him into what the women regard as an outrage as well as a blunder.

N. Y. PROTESTANT CHURCHES HONOR POPE BENEDICT

Thousands Assemble in Sanctuaries for Tribute to the Dead Churchman.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—A spirit of spontaneous mourning for Pope Benedict XV filled the city's Catholic churches yesterday with throngs who knelt to pray for the repose of the holy father's soul. Many Protestant congregations also took part.

Solemn requiem obsequies, it was announced, will take place at St. Patrick's and other cathedrals January 26, at the hour fixed for the corresponding celebration at St. Peter's in Rome.

The Rev. R. H. Tierney, editor of America, the national Catholic weekly, in a statement called Benedict "the greatest Pope since the stormy and unhappy days of the religious warfare in the sixteenth century."

"The Pope was, in a very special way, a friend of the workmen," he said. "Their cause was ever near his heart, and he never lost an opportunity to defend them. He was in a very special way the Pope of the poor."

As Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia is in the West Indies, Cardinal O'Connell, for several days at least, will be the only American with a voice in the election of the new head of the Roman Catholic church.

Apostolic Delegate to U. S. Writes of Pontiff's Death

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (By the Associated Press).—Following is the letter which the apostolic delegate to Washington has sent to all the bishops in the United States to inform them of the death of Benedict XV:

"Right Reverend and Dear Bishop: In profound sorrow I write to inform you that our holy father, Pope Benedict XV, died this morning at 6 o'clock.

"While we bow in submission to the will of God in calling to himself the visible head of his church, we cannot but mourn the loss of this great pontiff, who, amid the world's calamities, did so much in behalf of religion, humanity and peace.

"Blessed be his pontificate, which he lived to see a better appreciation of his attitude toward the warring nations and of his impartiality, his anxiety to end the struggle and his ceaseless efforts to bring relief wherever needed. Now that the heart which went out to all the peoples is stilled in death, now that the arms which would have enclosed mankind in their embrace are folded forever, the world must pay tribute to his wisdom and to his spirit of justice and charity.

"The church in America will realize that it has lost a father who was ever concerned for its welfare. To the bishops, especially of the United States, the death of the Pope will be the cause of deepest grief. His interest in their labors was a source of constant encouragement, while his unfailing kindness drew them to him in the bonds of love and devotion.

"With their bishops the clergy and faithful will join in the prayer that goes up from the heart of the Catholic church to implore for Pope Benedict a place of refreshment, light and peace, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, whom he so loyally served. United with you in the sense of common bereavement, I am, with sentiments of esteem, sincerely yours in Christ.

"GIOVANNI BONZANO, Apostolic Delegate."

TWO S. F. BANDITS COMMANDER CAR, ROB RESTAURANTS

Taximan Held Up and Auto Stolen by Gunmen; Two Cafes Looted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Two automobile bandits held up the driver of a rent car early today and, after luring him to a remote section and taking his machine away, carried out a succession of restaurant holdups. After obtaining $141, the robbers abandoned their stolen car and escaped.

Leo Griggs of 416 Bartlett street was at his stand at Third and Market streets at 1 a. m. when two men hired him to take them to Twenty-second avenue and Lincoln way. When he reached that destination the requested that he continue on up Twenty-second avenue about three blocks. Reaching there, they forced him out of the car at the point of a gun.

"All we want is your car," they told him.

They drove off and Griggs hurried to the Park station, reporting the holdup. Meanwhile his automobile was being used in the holdup of the cafe of Theodore Tarravastis, 610 Larkin street. One bandit stayed in the car while the other entered, menacing the proprietor with a revolver and took $125 from the till.

The robbers then drove to the restaurant at 392 1/2 Third street. Again one highwayman entered and forced the proprietor, George Sitnik, into a rear room. They took $13 and made their escape. At 4 o'clock this morning Policeman William Collins found the automobile abandoned at Golden Gate avenue and Jones street.

Meese. The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Richmond Industrial Commission in cooperation with the Richmond Realty Board. Successive steps will come to Richmond and go over the assessment rolls with the committee to be named, according to Secretary Verne of the Richmond Industrial Commission.

SOVIETS TO SEEK REPARATIONS AT GENOA CONCLAVE

European Powers and U. S. Will Be Asked for Huge Indemnity.

MOSCOW, Jan. 23.—(By the Associated Press.) Soviet delegates to the Genoa conference will present reparations claims against various European powers and the United States. If these claims are made in terms of Ruble-rubles, new names for large amounts may be necessary, for the familiar terms of the decimal system will not cover the staggering sums claimed by this country, which issues single bills for 100,000,000 rubles.

Leonide Krassin, Maxim Litvinoff, M. Rakovsky and scores of other communist leaders will probably go to Genoa.

Foreign debts owed by Russia and the claims of other governments against the Soviet regime will be as nothing when compared with the amounts that Moscow has chalked up against England, France and America.

Documents will be presented to show the responsibility of the great powers for damage suffered by Russia as a result of the Czecho-Slovakian advance in Siberia, and hundreds of smaller expeditions not reported to the western world.

Vagabond Poet Will Chant His Lays for Mills College Folk

When Vachel Lindsay comes to town there is a beating of the tambourines and the big bass drum. His meter marches, shouts and swings with a woman's stride, while Lindsay, poet, throws his hat in the air and shouts in approval.

For Vachel Lindsay, poet, vagabond and philosopher, loves his art, is happy in telling of it and rapturous when chanting to an audience the musical and sound-colorful lines he has written. He is to speak at Mills College at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, his only appearance on this side of the bay and will then continue a tour which will take him before college folk in more than two hundred institutions.

A number of years ago Lindsay, a serious young man, wrote flowery verse and talked vigorously on political themes. One fortunate day he stumbled into a new way of expression. He found he could pick noise and motion into his verses and wrote "The Congo." "General William Booth Enters Heaven" is another that is known the country over. "The Chinese Nightingale" and his "Tuning Fork" are the best of California poems written in this state and with the encouragement of his friends at Mills.

Lindsay will lecture at the Paul Elder gallery in San Francisco tomorrow afternoon at the Hotel St. Francis tomorrow evening and at Mills College in Oakland on Wednesday evening.

Retailers Protest Employees' Coal Sales

Complaining against the practice of industrial concerns in furnishing their employees with coal at cost price, the California Retail Coal Dealers' Association voices a vigorous protest in the January number of the official organ.

"During the last year many complaints have reached this office from retail coal dealers throughout the state in reference to industrial plants selling coal at cost to their employees. This is not only unfair to the retail dealer, it creates a sense of injustice in the mind of the consumer who does not happen to be an employee of the offending plants.

"These same plants would be quick to take steps to protect themselves if the retail coal dealers were to handle their product at cost as a side line to the detriment of the regular dealer who handles their goods at a legitimate profit. All we ask is a square deal."

Oakland Relief Ship Will Be Sent Soon

The Near East Relief is planning the sending of a relief ship from the Port Terminal in this city in March. Work to get funds, clothing and foodstuffs for the expedition will begin in the near future. Upon the arrival of the "Escher Dollar," the relief ship sent from Oakland last year, 20,000 orphans were admitted to the orphanages. Due to the overcrowded conditions, orphans are admitted one at a time as funds or supplies arrive in Armenia.

A drive for foodstuffs recently completed in Fresno county resulted in securing $72,000 worth, which will be dispatched on the relief ship. Over $5000 in cash and pledges was netted at a luncheon held recently in Hotel Oakland under the auspices of the Eastbay branch for the Adoption of Orphans, according to today's reports.

Bill Provides Rule For Check Discounts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Chairman McFadden of the House Banking and Currency committee today introduced a bill which he declared was designed to dispose of "the fight between country banks and the Federal reserve banks pertaining to par collection of checks."

The measure provides that a bank not a member of the Federal Reserve system may elect whether it will make an exchange charge when remitting for checks drawn upon it, but if the bank decides to do so, it will be required to pay the fee for the service rendered by the Federal Reserve banks in the collection of such checks.

"Rush Hours"

In all lines of business patronage is irregular. Street cars, stores, banks and restaurants have their "rush hours" when some delays in service are unavoidable. The public, with the situation before its eyes, good naturedly accepts a degree of inconvenience.

There are "rush hours" in a telephone exchange. With business service the "loads" of telephone traffic are determined by commercial activities, banking hours, etc.—the "load" of the residence telephone varies with household and social needs.

The demands upon the telephone operator and a complicated mechanical equipment cannot be seen, but telephone traffic varies in every hour of every day according to the individual desires of thousands of patrons.

If there should be at times a delay in answering your call, remember that trained young women with nimble fingers are doing their best to serve you, and that at the moment there may be a "rush" of telephone traffic.

The exercise of patience and consideration will mean better service.

Machine Works and Glass Cutting Plant to Begin Operations Soon.

Two new industries were announced today by the New Industries committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, besides the organization of a corporation to wreck the historic American warship Brooklyn and the establishment of another steamship office in Oakland.

The new industries are the Automatic Electric Machine Company, Inc., and the W. T. Fraser Glass Cutting Art Works. The former will be located in a new building now going up on High street, near Fourteenth street, and the latter has started operations in a leased factory building at 563 Eighteenth street.

The Automatic Electric Machine Company will manufacture a time clock dater and will shortly begin production on an order for 150 for the Southern Pacific company. The officers are:

H. G. Lundgren, president; H. S. Schuldt, vice-president, and W. C. Hollingsworth, secretary.

The Fraser glass cutting works will do special work in glass cutting and lapidary work.

The Brooklyn Wrecking company is the name of the corporation which is engaged in breaking up the American warship which made history at Santiago.

The Williams Steamship company announces it has opened offices at 206 Syndicate building, with Charles T. Anderson as general agent. The boats of this line will make Oakland a regular port of call, docking at the Parr terminals.

S. F. Business Men to Face Contempt Charge
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—(By United Press).—Four prominent San Francisco businessmen and their attorneys were cited to show cause January 25 why they should not be punished for contempt of court today in a litigation involving three Mexican corporations and a consignment valued at $50,000. Those who must appear before the District Court are George A. Moore, Duval Moore, Kenneth A. Moore, John Douglas Short and Attorney F. E. Boland.

The defendants represent the George A. Moore company of this city and the American Trading Company of New York. These concerns had claims against three Mexican corporations for $150,000 and levied an attachment against 2700 bags of coffee here. The office was claimed by the Hawaii Mill and Plantation Company and the District Court held that the latter concern had the right to it. Nevertheless it is charged on the complaint for contempt on the George A. Moore company and the American Trading company.

New Registration Plan At Technical High

The usual long midnight line of freshmen eager to enter the Technical High school building for enrollment was not in evidence this year. Although 370 new students came in, they were spared the inconvenience of standing in line. The registration was done at the various grammar schools, through vocational counselors.

On Friday night a class of 155 graduated. This enrollment of 370 brings the enrollment to about 2400. Of the 370 new pupils, 166 are girls and 204 boys. Of the total, 76 were transfers from other high schools and junior high schools of the city.

It's Just Like Finding Ten-Dollar Bill to Name This Nimrod Cartoon and Take Tribune Prize

Just name the cartoon. It is easy. For the best title, the one most apt, the cleverest or most fitting, THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE will pay $10 each week. The rules are simple, as follows:

The titles must be written on a postcard and addressed to Title Editor, OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

The titles must not exceed twelve words in length.

They must reach THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE by Thursday night following the Monday the picture is published.

One person may send in as many titles as he wishes, but only two on one postcard.

Winners will be announced each Sunday.

TRIO HELD AS THIEF SUSPECTS

MANTECA, Jan. 22.—After reading in THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE that Adeline Silva had confessed that her companions, William Rodriguez and Tony Simmons, planned to rob a jewelry store last night, local officers began an investigation and found that the trio had been fed and cared for here last Monday night and provided with a ride to Oakland, where they were arrested Thursday.

The three appeared at the S. F. Elkins home, relating that they had been held up and robbed near here, while on their way to Oakland from southern California, and were hungry and "broke." Elkins took them to a restaurant and provided them with supper. Later, Nightwatchman Wiley obtained a free ride for them to Oakland on a milk truck.

Investigation will be made to determine whether they had a hand in the theft of an automobile from a local garage early in the week. Footprints in the soft earth convinced the officers that the car had been rolled out of the garage by two small men or a man and a woman, as the prints were small, one being rather feminine.

Supervisors End Work in 20 Minutes

Less than twenty minutes were taken up by the meeting of the board of supervisors today. After approving the usual number of bills, releasing the customary writ of communications and certifying payrolls the board adjourned.

The only new business transacted was the approval of the contract with the Healy-Thibbets Construction Company for the building of new approaches to the Bay Farm Island bridge and the approval of the recommendation of County Surveyor George Posey that certain roads leading to Calaveras dam be abandoned and closed, while certain other roads are opened. This latter change, Posey declares, is merely a "swap" with the Spring Valley Water Company, in which the county gets a much better road location.

Congress Chiefs Call Session to Frame Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(By International News Service).—A joint meeting of the Senate and House Republican steering committees was called today to meet Wednesday to discuss the legislative program.

The meeting was agitated by the House leaders, who admittedly are perturbed over the growing indications of a protracted fight in the Senate over the conference treaties, which might tie up the upper house and prevent action on other legislation. House leaders said they would insist that the treaties go over until next session unless the Senate is prepared to give assurance that appropriation bills and tariff legislation can be passed in time to permit adjournment by June 1.

Home Is Saved by Vigilance of Firemen

BERKELEY, Jan. 22.—Alertness on the part of J. Carney, member of the Berkeley fire department, and James Nealon, employee of the city street department, saved the home of L. M. Lord, 1647 Allston way, from destruction yesterday. Nealon discovered the flames while Carney, who lives across the street, turned in the alarm. Both started to fight the flames before the department arrived. Loss amounting to $200 was done to the roof of the home.

Six other fires kept the Berkeley department busy yesterday. In all cases the loss was kept nominal. Following are the fires: 2219 Atherton, Max Greenwood, $25; 2234 Roosevelt, P. Libby, $10; 2619 Ashby, E. H. Chilcote, $5; 1285 Ward, A. Newman, $20; 2697 Hearst, smoke scare.

SUFFRAGE BATTLE LOOMS IN JAPAN

TOKYO, Jan. 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Premier Takahashi, firmly entrenched by the support of the Seiyukai party, of which he is a leader, appears to be at the head of a stable government.

Universal suffrage will probably be one of the principal points of attack by the opposition party in the lower house of parliament, which opened Saturday and a measure to confer the voting power upon all males Japanese will be read at every opportunity. In the upper house, however, any extension of suffrage undoubtedly will be opposed.

The labor situation, social conditions, army and navy appropriations, policies to be pursued relative to Siberia and China, and the conference at Washington, will probably afford subjects upon which the government may be criticized. Charges that it has failed to maintain the prestige of Japan are frequently heard, and there are confident assertions by leaders of the government party and in administration circles that efforts of the opposition to influence the government's policy regarding the conference will be futile.

ACCUSED BROKER'S LAWYER CHARGES EVIDENCE MISSING

Circulars Describing the Man Who Passed Check Not Available, He Says.

Disappearance from police departments around the country of important evidence for the defense of Robert L. Bradford, San Francisco broker and clubman, who is charged with passing a worthless check for $10,000 on the American National Bank, was claimed today by his attorney, Richard M. Lyman Jr. This evidence, according to Lyman, consists of the police circulars sent out at the time the alleged fraud, which contained descriptions of the fictitious check, and the man who had passed it.

This bit of evidence, Lyman holds, was desired by the defense for the purpose of contradicting the testimony of H. H. Michaels, clerk in Cavalier's office who is expected, will appear for the prosecution to identify Bradford as the man who passed the check. Lyman's contention that Bradford's appearance does not tally with the description given to the police by Michaels.

Usually, Lyman asserts, these circulars are kept on file by the police departments, and that they are issued and those to which they are sent. In this case, he says, a recent search disclosed the fact that they had mysteriously disappeared from the police files in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and San Francisco.

Bradford is scheduled to go on trial tomorrow before Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church, on the charge of passing a worthless check.

Large Apple Storage Plants to Be Erected

WATSONVILLE, Jan. 22.—In order to afford storage facilities for their share of the expected increase in volume of apple production in the Pajaro valley the next season the Pajaro Valley Cold Storage Company is preparing to build a large addition to the cold storage plant on the corner of Second and Ford streets. It is planned to increase the capacity about one-third, or from a present capacity of approximately 100,000 boxes to more than 200,000 boxes. The building will be of deep-proof material and of modern design.

It is understood that local capitalists are also planning new independent storage plants of somewhat lesser capacity than the two already in operation here.

Coconut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulisfield coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls of Mulisfield will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp, installed oiliness, dandruff, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulisfield coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulisfield.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, Jan. 22.—The membership campaign of the 1932 Haydon Township Fair, Products Show, which will open the drive for finances to put over the coming show, is heralded among the topics to be discussed at a special meeting of the directors of the Haydon Chamber of Commerce here tomorrow evening.

The Eden Township Farm Products Show is a non-profit sharing corporation, capitalized for the sum of $100,000. M. J. Madison, leader in the movement toward incorporation, has set a goal of $50,000 to be raised before the 1932 show can be staged here. The memberships in the corporation will be sold for $10. They will give the holder voting power but will not carry any dividends. An operating fund will be created, says Madison, and a certain amount of interest paid on money borrowed through that medium.

As an initial step toward building up an great annual agricultural and industrial fair here, the leaders of the new organization plan to purchase land and erect permanent show buildings. The land now under consideration lies in the block tract west of town, adjacent to the car line and the highway. Former shows have been held at Memorial Park, Hayward, which lies on the eastern limits of this city, the farthest point within the corporate limits, from Oakland.

Within the next month the membership campaign will be begun. Madison expects to be ready to go ahead with the building operations by March. Once the interest of the people is guaranteed by a large membership enrollment it will not be difficult to secure funds with which to build, he says.

PERSHING TURNS DOWN MEDAL FOR PHILIPPINE WORK

General Declines the D. S. C. Because He Declares He Does Not Deserve Honor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—General Pershing declined today to accept a Distinguished Service Cross voted him by the Army Board of Awards and which Secretary Weeks had planned to bestow on him at a "surprise party" arranged to take place in the war secretary's office. The plan was cancelled when the general discovered the secret and went immediately to Mr. Weeks to declare his undesirability of the honor.

General Pershing declined the award of the medal of honor for the same exploit concerned in today's presentation. This was an incident occurring when he was a brigadier general in the Philippine Islands in 1913.

The citation made public earlier in the day by Secretary Weeks on which the board's decision was made, follows:

"For extraordinary heroism in action against hostile fanatical Moros at Mount Bagaak, Jolo, Philippine Islands, on June 15, 1913. He personally assumed command of the assaulting force at the most critical period when only about 15 yards from the last Moro position. His encouragement and splendid example of personal heroism resulted in a general advance and the prompt capture of the hostile stronghold."

IRVIN S. COBB

A Testimonial to Strength.

A man I know told me that one evening he got on an "L" train in Chicago to go to his home in the suburbs. In one of the lengthwise seats near him sat three negroes, a big, wide darky in the center, with a little, slender darky on each side of him. The big negro was looking for trouble; that much was plain.

Every time the guard, who was a little German, opened the door to call a station the big darky would mimic him, and then the other two protested, whereupon the big darky threatened him.

"Go on, you Dutchman!" he said. "If you sasses me I'll hit you 't onet, an' knock you so high in the air you'll starve to death 'min' down!"

"He'll do it, too," said one of the little negroes. "He will 'at!" assented the other. "Ef he say he'll do it, he shure will!"

Just then the door flew open and in came the German, accompanied by another guard, nearly seven feet high. The German pointed out the disturber, and the giant, without a word, grabbed him by the collar, jerked him out of his place like a tooth out of a socket, cuffed him first on one side of the head and then on the other, dragged him on the platform and pitched him bodily over the gate upon the platform of a station from which the train was just moving. Then he reopened the door and gave the friends of the late departed a hard and threatening look. But they were staring straight ahead of them, their eyes blinking and their faces indicative of a great mental concentration.

For a long minute there was silence. Then, as if moved by the same set of strings, the heads of the two little darkies turned gently, inch by inch, until each looked into the other's face across the gap where their friend had been sitting. One of them sighed musingly. "Dat suttinly was a strong man!" was all he said.

Gwan-To-Bed Stories.

THE ROMANCE OF PHOEBE DICE.

Once upon a time, dear children, there were three little dice who were very good friends. There were Big Dick Dice, Little Joe Dice and Phoebe Dice. (Johnny, get off the piano!)

They lived in the cunningest little dice box you ever saw and they were as happy as all get-out. Their friends would often come to call on them, especially Come-Seven Dice and Come-Eleven Dice. But once they came loaded and were not welcome after that. They had a lot of other friends, however, such as Eighter from Decatur, Box Car Dice and Crap Dice. (Dorothy, will you tell the baby to stop shoveling coal in the furnace?)

Phoebe Dice was very attractive, so it was no wonder that Big Dick and Little Joe fell madly in love with her. Ah! that was a romance, children, for your long blue whiskers! Every night Big Dick and Little Joe would gather outside Phoebe's window, shaking with excitement, and would serenade her with their touching love song:

Roll them bones
Roll them bones
Roll them on the square,
Roll them on the sidewalk,
The streets or anywhere;
Roll them in the morninggggg,
Roll them in the ni-ght,
Roll them bones the whole day loo-oongg.
The cops (hold it!) am (hold it!) out of si-ght.
(Oh rollin them bones).

Meanwhile, Phoebe couldn't make up her mind which to choose. Her parents wanted her to take Little Joe. He was not so handsome as Big Dick, but he was a steady, reliable lad and had a good job. But Phoebe's heart inclined toward Big Dick—he was so big and handsome-looking and romantic. But somehow she couldn't decide which one to take. Neither could her parents decide for her. And I am sure it would be the height of impertinence for me to do so, and since that being the case, and since it is now quarter of eight, I would advise you youngsters to gwan to bed.

OAKLAND N. S. G. W. W. NATIONAL DIVISION CHAMPIONSHIP

TEDDY O'HARA WILL MAKE FAREWELL APPEARANCE IN RING AGAINST DIGGINS WEDNESDAY

NATIONAL DIVISION PENNANT IS CINCHED BY OAKLAND NATIVES

Maxwell Hardware B eaten 6-2 as Andy Phillips Hurls a No-Hit Game for Natives.

The Oakland Natives, No. 50, made certain of the pennant in the National Division of the TRIBUNE Class "A" League yesterday afternoon at the Coast League park beyond the shadow of a doubt, if there ever was such, when they hammered the offerings of Gene Kersten often and far to beat the Maxwell Hardware nine by a count of 6-2. It was a fitting finale for the N. S. aggregation to put on as a pennant-cinching exhibition, and Manager Crosby's club had their war clubs in action from start to finish. In addition to the work of playing the national pastime as the book calls for it, the boys witnessed a sweet exhibition of hurling on the part of their mound artist—Andy Phillips, the San Jose boy, who after a week's absence on account of illness, came back to set the Maxwell's down in a no-hit contest that had the stove and kitchen utensil retailers buffaloed from start to finish.

His little playmates in the field, for the most part, gave him well deserved support, and except for a few minor infield bobbles, in which infield pop flies played a prominent part, the balls batted out by the Hardware boys were either in the air or in the willow, and Kersten was far from effective, being in trouble nearly every inning. Bunched baseruns combined with a little loose fielding enabled the Natives to score early to take the lead, which they increased as they went along.

When Teddy O'Hara steps into the ring at the Auditorium, the big man will make his last appearance of the Watts Tract boy here in some time. Teddy has signed a contract to engage in five fights in Australia, and he will leave on the next steamer for the big island.

O'Hara held Diggins to a draw last time out. The San Francisco entry started out at a fast pace and took the first two rounds, but the Watts Tract boxer swayed up in the third and in the fourth was all over his man. Had the bout been scheduled to go another round, Teddy would have won off by himself.

THAT ECONOMIC CONFERENCE.

It is already semi-officially announced at Washington that if the President decides to accept the invitation of the Supreme Allied Council to send a delegation to the European economic conference to be held next month in Genoa, Mr. Herbert C. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, will head it. It is quite logical that in seeking someone able competently to represent this country at such a conference the thought of Mr. Hoover should come first to mind.

European governments already are aware of the fact that Mr. Hoover has certain definite ideas about the economic situation of Europe.
He has expressed these ideas direct to the European governments. He believes four steps are necessary to cure Europe's economic ills. They are:

- 1.—The balancing of budgets by the various continental governments.
 - 2.—The reconstruction and reformation of national currencies, involving the stoppage of the printing presses turning out paper money.
 - 3.—The levying of increased taxes.
 - 4.—Recognition of the necessary connection between the economic recovery of Europe generally with the economic recovery of Germany.
- These are perfectly safe points for discussion at the proposed conference, so far as the United States Government is concerned. They do not imply a discussion of the remission or undue postponement of the payments of the war loans now overdue from the Allied countries. And it might be well to have it understood in the beginning that the American delegation to the Genoa conference cannot submit to a discussion of the subject of war loan cancellation.

POPE BENEDICT.

The death of Pope Benedict XV at Rome has greatly shocked the entire civilized world. Until six days ago there was no intimation that the chief ecclesiastic of Catholicism was seriously ill and the 300,000,000 church members who follow his spiritual leadership are suddenly plunged into mourning.

All Christendom is under a heavy loss through the passing of Pope Benedict. He combined a fine intelligence, a gift in the nobler part of statesmanship and a grace which must rank him
among the greatest of his predecessors.

Born Giacomo della Chiesa, the late Pope came of a noble line. He was the son of the Marchese della Chiesa of Pegli, Italy, and was educated at the Caprinian College and later attended the Academy of the Ecclesiastics. Ordained to the priesthood in 1878, his ability soon attracted the attention of Cardinal Rampolla, who was papal secretary of state under Pope Leo XIII. He accompanied his patron to Madrid in 1885, when Rampolla was Nuncio. Later he became secretary of the Nunciature of Spain and, in 1907, Archbishop of the See of Bologna. He was elevated to the cardinalate only six months prior to his entering St. Peter's with the title of Pope.

Pope Benedict's regime was a peculiarly troubled one for a peace-loving churchman. The great war of Europe, the outbreak of which astonished the passing of Pius X, was scarcely six weeks old at the time of his accession. He made his first appeal for peace among the belligerents in December 12, 1914. Subsequently, he addressed no less than seven public appeals for peace, at one time: He condemned the German invasion of Belgium, the deportation of Belgian civilians and ruthless submarine warfare. When Germany put out peace feelers in 1917, he insisted upon the immediate repatriation of these exiles. The bombardment of Paris by long range guns he denounced as "a wicked mis-deed."

It was the expressed hope of the late pontiff that peace would be based upon Christian principles. In that he was disappointed and was grieved at the slow progress toward tranquility and restoration of happiness among the war-torn countries. He had displayed a benign solicitude for the success of the peace conference of 1919, made a strong plea in behalf of oppressed nationalities and pledged his support to all the decisions of the delegates at Versailles.

The quarrel between England and Ireland also engaged his earnest attention. He made repeated efforts to tranquilize the conflict of the last two years and hastened to express to both King George and the Sinn Fein leaders his gratitude for the agreement of peace of December 6th.

Pope Benedict, although his reign was little more than six years, devoted a larger proportion of his time and thought to the temporal troubles of his followers than any of his predecessors. The physical, moral and spiritual suffering of the peoples of Europe claimed all his energies for amelioration. The temper of the warring governments caused them to turn deaf ears to his pleas, but this did not discourage him in the effort to save Europe to a faith in God and obedience to Christian precepts.

IMPROVING POLICE FORCE.

Considerable benefit should result from the decision of Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Colburn to introduce a regime of military drill into the police department of Oakland.
It is something that has been needed for a long time and after it is tried out will undoubtedly become a permanent feature of the police officers' routine.

The advantage of this military drill lies in the fact that it will instill a more wholesome regard and respect for discipline in the department.
And there had been a long season of slack discipline when Mr. Colburn assumed his present position. The police department had suffered because of this. Many of the scandals of the department are traceable to the policy which permitted the police officer to get through with his tour of duty with the least possible annoyance and attention to department.

When the drill system is thoroughly in effect,
when the members of the police force realize something of the value of discipline and some of the members perhaps are weeded out because of their temperamental incapacity for proper discipline, the rating of the department will be much higher. Then other needed features of police instruction may be introduced. Perhaps there will be a school (and not on the city's time) for the benefit of some of the officers on all the important phases of a policeman's duty.

But the drill system is the most important beginning and Commissioner Colburn is not only entitled to generous praise for ordering its introduction but to the hearty support of the public and the police department in enforcing it.

A lot of energy is being expended just now in revising history. Between being revised and repeating itself, history has a fairly busy time, to say nothing of those who are always discovering forgotten history and those who have ambition to make new history.

Just because Lenin and Trotsky have accepted an invitation to attend the proposed European economic conference at Genoa should not be taken to imply that they have become converted to sound and tried principles of government.

Bald-headed men do not really forge to the front row in the burlesque show; it is because they are more noticeable than the others.

discovered.

The traditional horn of plenty resembles somewhat the saxophone, but it is not the same instrument. The latter is the horn of too much.

COMMUNISM LOSES CONVERT.

About two years ago Anatole France, the distinguished French novelist, satirist and humanist, proclaimed his adhesion to Lenin's third international.
Last month, at Stockholm, when he received the Nobel prize for literature, M. France took occasion to recant his dramatic acceptance of communism.

"I am no longer a communist in any sense of the word," he said, and he explained that, though still opposed to plutocratic domination, he had become convinced of the impracticability of communism, and was satisfied that private property was essential to civilization and worthy of honor and respect, provided wealth was well diffused and nations were composed of numerous small owners and holders of land and other forms of property.

M. France pointed to his own country as an example of the right system of private property ownership. He might have pointed to the United States, Canada, to Australia, to rural Russia, since the constituent assembly of Russia before its dispersal by the Bolsheviks pursued the aim of transferring the land to the peasants. He might have pointed to the beneficial effects of the Irish land-purchase acts, which are abolishing landlordism and dual ownership, and are gradually making Ireland a country of prosperous peasants.

Frank Rosenthal, everywhere, to say nothing of the genuine species, are displeased with M. France's reversion to individualism and a belief in private property and industrial freedom. They were so delighted with his action in espousing communism and socialism that they are hard put to it now to find consolation for and explanation of his defection. But the thoughtful liberal, and even the constructive evolutionary radical, will understand M. France and rejoice in his repudiation of revolutionary communism. —Chicago

Mr. Pickrel, near the lake, reported the loss of about one hundred fine Lehigh hens while the family were at church. This is the second theft of chickens reported and the sturdy farmers are very much incensed and have polished up their trusty shotguns—loaded with heavy shot.

The county auditor at Woodland, on Thursday morning, found his false teeth frozen in a tumbler of water and thus it is that, little by little, the details of the suffering occasioned by the recent cold spell are brought to light.

One of the papers up the state, the other day, lifted a perfectly good rhyme out of this Almanac and credited it to "Anon." We don't know much concerning this Anon, except that he has written more than any other fellow, but if we see him
we are going to tell him to cut out claiming authorship of anything that belongs to us.

I shot a poem in the air,
And it came down upon
A neighbor's editorial page—
"Twas credited 'Anon'."

be present when posterity rises up to protest at the number of things we are passing on to it.

'Twould Seem Likely.

(From Denver Post.)
Ray Chapman, 27 years old, negro, was shot through the stomach and probably wounded by Officer Rogers
Monday night.

Our old friend R. Spinkewitz called today, as is his custom, to read the literature he finds in the waste basket. "It is the best stuff," he said, "that is thrown away and just to prove it, I will pick out the first thing that comes to hand and read it." Spinkewitz reached in the basket after explaining that bills or personal letters would not count.

This is the joke he found: "In my early youth a fond parent grew uneasy whenever I made a noise and used to quiet me by saying 'Still the water run deep.' Was she not one of the early maxim silencers?" It was signed K. M. and is said by Spinkewitz to be one of the best little jokes among the few he had not yet thought of.

What sort of a man is this Spinkewitz?
Someone has asked. As he sat on the edge of our desk today making puns on everything in sight we sketched him mentally. He is not over five feet two or three,

THE WATER'S FINE.NOTES and COMMENT

According to the New York Herald, Alaska gets quick results from its railroad. "Although it has been open for freight and passenger transportation only a short time, Alaska's new railroad, from Seward on the south coast, to Fairbanks in the north, has already made a sharp cut in living expenses all the way to its northernmost terminus. The cost of beef in Fairbanks has been reduced by 25 cents a pound. Oats that a month or so ago sold there for $149 a ton may now be bought for $70 a ton. Flour and other staples have fallen proportionately."

Trend of the times suggested by Los Angeles Times, in telling of a recent equestrian achievement:
"Woman rides all the way from Missouri to California on horseback.
This refutes the idea that the millions of the horse has ended. Twenty years ago a lot of folks were coming to California by way of the horse.
Nobody had even dreamt of making the trip in a Ford. Now the highways are cluttered up with Henry's road-rabbits, and a horse has a hard time biting his way through the crush."

The Salt Lake News gives a reason for the falling-off in weddings: "Compilation of statistics shows that there were fewer marriages in 1921 than in 1920. Though the decrease is to be regretted—because a high percentage of marriages indicates a number of salutary and commendable things—still there need be no great concern over the matter.
The decrease is undoubtedly due to the fact that the economic and financial conditions during 1921 were such that people thought they could not afford to marry."

The New York Times rejoices at this evidence that professors must eat: "It is a pleasure, the greater because infrequent, to be able to commend an act of the Bolshevik government. There are signs of returning sanity in its decision, now reported, to allow 7500 professors and intellectuals the most generous rations permitted by the Soviet food schedule—workers' rations. They are apparently what the Russians call armoured rations. Even the Communists have realized that professors also work."

The Kansas City Star approves the lateral blow at "immediatism." There is sound sense in the plan of the American Good Roads Association to abolish all immediatism history and underwear advertisements from billboards along highways. The place for immediatism ads is in publications, where the attention of the reader is not so likely to be drawn away from the very serious business of steering a motor car."

The Chicago News asks: "What has become of the old-fashioned bootjack. Well, when last seen it had been gilded and was pinching as a work of art on the dining-room wall."

The Kansas City Times embraces the opportunity: "Freezing temperatures in California must be very aggravating to the residents, and may suggest to them the desirability of acquiring some industry besides climate."

Senator Johnson once said "a man must eat." The army and navy departments have declared that the man who eats at home is in danger of pelagra, and if he eats in a restaurant his innocence is pernicious, so he is up against a serious problem. —Woodland

THE GENTLEMAN.

Within an elevator he is gentlemanly as can be He'll doff his hat, if women turn
By chance with him are riding there;
He'll prove by almost every test
His breeding is the very best—
Yet when he drives his motor car
Most horrible his manners are.

He will not crowd you in a train,
Nor jostle you a place to gain.
In church he'll step aside 'till you
Are comfortably in your pew;
He'll count it a disgrace complete
If he should step upon your feet—
Yet in his motor car he plays
The hog in several different ways.

He'll cut in where he has no right
And chuckle at your show of fright.
The stranger's conduct he'll reveal
When he is at the steering wheel:
Though otherwise he will admit
Your right to walk or stand or sit.
Out on the road he thinks that he Alone has any right to be.

He'll almost take a fender off,
And then look back at you and scoff.
Your peace of mind he'll not disturb
By crowding you into the curb.
The women will not find
This driver courteous and kind—
Oh, gentlemen, whoever you are,
Why don't you be one in your car?

About YOUR HEALTH

Why Nice Surroundings
Means Much to Your Health.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.
Consultant of Health,
New York City.

Pleasant surroundings have much to do with your mental condition and, therefore, have an important bearing on your health.

Sunshine, fresh air and the right temperature are unmistakable in their effects upon health. You cannot live in the ceaseless din of clanging machinery or the chatter of discordant voices without being unpleasantly affected.

Bad odors are distracting and harmful. A disagreeable taste in the mouth will keep your attention from your work. A tight shoe will spoil your whole evening.

All your special sense organs have something to do with your happiness or your misery. If what you hear, smell, taste and feel affect you, it is just as reasonable to believe that what you see helps you or harms you.

Beautiful sights, pictures, flowers, cheerful work and the appearance of a cozy fire, a well-arranged bookcase, a tastefully set table, artistic furniture, an orderly desk—all these affect you pleasantly. As they give you agreeable thoughts and a feeling of pleasure, you are benefited.

Some years ago I read of a Wall Street broker who always has a single rose in a slender vase on his desk.
This little touch of nature puts him in harmony with the spheres, keeps him sweet and adds to his personal charm. In the presence of a beautiful flower which he really loves he cannot be coarse, ugly nor fretful.

We have this idea in the back of our minds, I suppose, when we send flowers to the sick friend. This gesture of simplicity and joy of the garden where flowers bloom stimulates the heart, adds to the depth of the breathing and promotes well-being.

Orderly, clean and well-arranged houses add to the joy of living.
What we refer to as "the need of a woman's hand" means that the home must show that delicate and beautifying touch which seems to be possessed by women alone.

You cannot be cheerful, wholesome and long-lived unless you live in pleasant ways. Cultivate a love of beauty and you have much to hold your mind. Cleanliness and neatness of person and of surroundings will add years to any life.

If you have no bump of order and beauty, cultivate it at once. Don't live "in a mess." Give yourself all the benefits of good surroundings.
Let all your ways be ways of pleasantness, and then all paths of health will be of your own choosing.

If the voters make up their minds that they wish to be governed by parties representing interests, sec-

that way, and with the foreign world bloc there will come other words current in foreign politics like agrar-

now lurk on the fringes of national which need not be dealt with by law is the fact that the American people

N. Y. SUICIDE IN SHERWOOD CASE DENIED

Theory That Berkeley Woman Leaped to Death From 19th Story of Hotel Is Scouted By Her Many Friends Here

The suicide theory which was first advanced for the death of Mrs. F. W. Sherwood, formerly of Berkeley, who is said to have ended her life yesterday by jumping from the nineteenth floor of the Hotel Commerce in New York, was declared to be without foundation today by relatives of the woman residing in this city.

That Mrs. Sherwood's death was entirely accidental was the opinion of her daughter, Mrs. Philip Valentine, 246 Perry street. Neither Mrs. Valentine nor any of the woman's younger children, residing in the Eastbay, Katherine, 19, a student at the University of California, and Raymond, 15, attending school in Oakland, received any direct word of their mother's death.

FINANCIAL WORRIES CAUSE DESPONDENCY

Word received from the Eastern city declared that the woman is believed to have been despondent because of financial trouble. Employees of the hotel said she had complained frequently because of disappointing investments.

A search of her room failed to reveal any notes or letters that would explain the woman's leap to death. The New York police obtained a special delivery letter, received from a man in Boston, which they said contained nothing that would cause Mrs. Sherwood to kill herself.

WOMAN'S LEAP WAS OF ABOUT 200 FEET

The woman's leap was of about 200 feet. She landed on the red roof of a one-story arcade, containing small stores. The crash of her fall aroused guests on the first floor of the hotel. They investigated and found her broken body and notified the police. At the time of the leap Mrs. Sherwood was clad in a black dress and wore either shoes or stockings.

SAVING HOME ON HILLCREST ROAD

Mrs. Sherwood resided at 18 Hillcrest road, Berkeley, until last August and was a leader of the Eastbay society. She sold her property and went East because of ill health and for the purpose of being nearer her daughter, a student at Wellesley College. She was divorced more than two years ago, and her former husband resides at the Alice apartments, this city.

SAVING HOME ON HILLCREST ROAD

Mrs. Sherwood was a sister of Clifford Weatherax, a wealthy banker living at Burlingame and having offices in San Francisco. Arrangements are being made to have her body sent to Berkeley.

Attorney Wins Bride on Quail Hunt, Weds in Betrothal Bower

MRS. MYRON T. HARRIS, who was Miss Helen Massie till her romantic wedding to son of jurist

Myron Harris and S. F. Society Girl Tell of Romance; Dog Plays Cupid's Role

A secret marriage, culminating in a romance that blossomed during a quail hunt, became known today when friends of the couple announced the wedding Saturday of Myron Harris, well-known Oakland attorney, and Miss Helen Massie, San Francisco society girl, beneath an old oak tree in Franklin canyon. From their temporary quarters in the Hotel Harrison, Harris and his bride today confirmed the announcement.

Accompanied by Harris' father, President Judge T. W. Harris of the Superior Court, his mother and aunt, Miss Lillian Harris, the couple drove to Martinez Saturday noon and obtained a license. From Martinez the party drove to Franklin canyon, where the oak tree where Harris proposed to Miss Massie. The ceremony was performed by the groom's father.

"Brownie," an English setter, who occupied a prominent place in the Harris home at 625 Perry street, is said to have played the role of Cupid in the romance. Harris and Miss Massie often were found hunting in Franklin canyon, and on one occasion "Brownie," who did the retrieving, brought back a quail, and instead of placing it at his master's feet, laid it before Miss Massie.

"Brownie" is a wise old dog," Harris said today as he confirmed the story. Harris is a graduate of the University of California, a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity and for nine years was a deputy district attorney. The bride is a member of a well-known San Francisco family and made her home at 527 Eighth avenue.

Shortly after he graduated from the university Harris was married to Miss Betty Pitt of Ukiah at a secret ceremony at Key Route Inn, performed by his father. In 1919 Harris obtained a divorce on grounds of desertion. Harris did not contest the suit. He was prominent in university athletics and was a football star as well as a fast truck man. He made the trip to Australia with the university basketball team. The couple will live in a bungalow which Harris recently purchased.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Charles W. Fay, until recently postmaster at San Francisco, left today for Egypt, carrying with him letters addressed to James D. Phelan requesting the latter to become a candidate for the governorship of this state at the next election or to oppose Senator Hiram Johnson for United States Senatorship.

The communications were prepared and sponsored by local Democrats. Fay is bound for a port in Egypt where he will meet Phelan and a party of travelers. The entire party then is scheduled to tour parts of India.

Brothers Held On Separate Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Two brothers, charged with different offenses, appeared today before Police Judge Sylvain Lazarus, and both were held to answer to the Superior Court. The case was Charles C. Bishop, accused by the St. Francis hotel of passing a fictitious check, and Angus I. Bishop, charged with embezzlement by Elmer E. Evans, secretary of the California State Federation of Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. They are alleged to have committed the crime while soliciting for that organization. Both were arrested in Los Angeles.

NEW TRIAL IN D'AGOSTINI CASE, PLAN

Woman Accused of Slaying Arnold Postel to Face Jury for Second Time to Answer to the Charge of Murder

Mrs. Jeannette D'Agostini, the young widow who last August shot and killed Arnold Postel, Alameda furniture dealer, today faced the prospect of a second trial on a charge of murder, following the dismissal of a jury in Superior Judge George Samuel's court last night after 36 hours' deadlock. It is understood the jury was evenly divided.

The jurors began their deliberations Saturday morning. They announced their inability to reach a verdict at 10:30 o'clock last night. Attorneys rejected a proposal that the jury be permitted to return a sealed verdict this morning.

Mrs. D'Agostini, who is 32 years old and killed Postel on August 31, 1921, on the stairway of his home at 1332 Park street. Three bullets from a revolver fired by the woman entered Postel's body. He died instantly. She testified at her trial she had not intended shooting Postel, but had fired the revolver to attract the attention of passersby when Postel refused to stop advancing toward her. The defendant at one time threatened to upset the defense offered by her attorney when on the witness stand she denied his assertion she had shot Postel while temporarily insane. She said she never had been insane and was normal at the time of the tragedy.

She said Postel for two years had paid secret visits to her home, had attempted several times to attack her, and that she many times had threatened to commit suicide unless he ceased his attentions. Mrs. D'Agostini in 1916 shot and killed her husband, cashier of a branch bank in San Francisco. She was acquitted. She claimed she had shot to save the lives of herself and her two children.

NO MINUTE DETAIL. "It is useless to go into minute detail of how Elsie came to me in what she thought to be her hour of sorrow, but she did—the poor, dear girl was heartbroken over what she said, your apparent wrongdoing and mistreatment to her."

Your letter written October 11, in which you so shamefully and wrongfully accused me of robbing your home, brought me no end of mental suffering. Likewise, your letter of January 10, in which you said you loved me, but each and every time she gave me the assurance on her part that she loved me better than anything on this world. Somehow I believed each time in her and always forgave.

"You or any other man, Denny, would have acted likewise if you were confronted with a like problem. She told me you never loved me much she loved you, and Denny, it would make an iron man break down to have heard her last Sunday morning when she made her confession to me. She said she was the knowingest girl she was married and could not have you that made her understand more keenly now how much you really meant to her."

PITIFUL BUT WONDERFUL. "Oh, it was pitiful but wonderful. I would have given anything, Denny, if I could have been you. Well, I will see to it that I have not her love and without that there can't ever come happiness, and after all, she deserves it. She is a good woman, Denny."

"When she leaves today I will tell her she can be free. It is God's will, Denny. I so much hope you are improving and that the truth of this will help you. As for myself my days are empty, and busy if I do not want to hurt me by going away, the realization of the truth of her love for me and her. Again, Denny, let me ask you to judge her as I have loved her for to know her is to love her."

"Sincerely, "H. A. MAGER." The letter was introduced by Mrs. Mager's attorney to illustrate his contention that Mrs. Mager had told her husband how much she loved him on numerous occasions.

Doctor, in Divorce Fight, Implicates Outfielder Willie

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Denny Willie, outfielder on the Oakland Pacific Coast League baseball team, was mentioned prominently today in the divorce litigation before Superior Judge Timothy Fitzpatrick between Dr. H. A. Mager and his wife, Elizabeth. That Mrs. Mager was madly in love with Willie and that her husband was convinced of the fact and only regretted that he himself did not have a great share in her affections was indicated by the introduction of a letter which the physician wrote to the ball player November 23, 1921.

Dr. Mager is suing for a divorce on the ground of cruelty. His wife is contesting the action and today her attorney, Leonard James, introduced in evidence a letter dispatched to Willie when the Oakland team was playing in Los Angeles. It reads in part:

"Dear Denny: In writing you this letter I am calling myself to task. I had first thought of going into every detail, but I know a letter at its best is so unsatisfactory. Though I will only confine myself to a few real facts, Elsie is leaving for Los Angeles and may be with you at the time you receive this. Denny, I so much want Elsie to tell you the truth about me. I had asked her time and time again to do so, but her neglect was never really understood by me until after we were married and she confessed to me her love for you."

Hayward Judge Fines Three Motorists $40

HAYWARD, Jan. 23.—Jacob Harris, judge of the peace in this city, this morning fined three motorists an aggregate of $40 for speeding within the confines of Hayward. Judge Harris based his fines on the rates of speed, $10 for the first thirty miles or less and $2 for each additional mile. A. Mura, 1835 San Pablo avenue, Oakland, contributed $10 for traveling thirty miles; George Tompkins, 2401 Twenty-seventh street, Oakland, a similar amount, and Sam Tannica, 4153 Greenwich street, San Francisco, went thirty-five miles an hour and paid $20.

Veteran Is Buried By Legion Friends

The funeral of James Francis Brown, 2125 Twenty-seventh avenue, was held today under the auspices of Hascall F. Waterhouse Post No. 819, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Rev. H. H. Miller officiated at services at a local undertaking establishment after which the post took care of the ceremony. Brown died on January 21. Brown served in the Spanish-American war. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. May J. Brown, a son, Adrian S. Brown, and a daughter, Gertrude A. Brown.

U. C. Enrollment 35 Less Than Last Year

BERKELEY, Jan. 23.—Enrollment at the university for the spring semester shows a decrease of 35 students as compared with the number registered last year, according to figures from the office of the registrar. The total number of graduates and undergraduates is placed at $829 as compared to $884 a year ago. A slight increase in registration is still expected on the campus, however.

Baby Abandoned On Steps of Convent

Police are attempting to locate the parents of a baby found early today in a Gladstone's box on the steps of the Sacred Heart Convent, Fortieth and Grove streets. The baby is newly born and is a girl. Mrs. J. Z. Nelson of the Catholic Ladies Aid Society has notified. The child is now at the Baby hospital.

POPULATION OF SCHOOLS JUMPS 1000

New Semester of 1921-1922 Fiscal Year Opens: Gains Like Snowball Hurling Down Hill, Hunter States

School opened today for the new semester. The first semester of the 1921-22 fiscal year ended Friday, when graduation ceremonies were held in all the schools and diplomas were issued to successful students. Today the new semester began; there was a breaking of the ice in between.

It is expected by school authorities that the Oakland student population is greater by 1000 today than it was last Friday. On Friday 43,327 students were attending Oakland schools. Today it is anticipated that this number is augmented by 100 kindergarten, 200 elementary and 700 high school students, the latter including junior high.

"Each semester the size of the Oakland school department increases with the rapidity of a snowball going down hill," says Superintendent of Schools Fred A. Hunter.

Members of the board of education and officials of the school department are unanimous in asserting that if Oakland's school population increases automatically at every semester, as it does now, school crowding cannot be prevented through the years to come, no matter what steps are taken to avoid it.

500 DOGS FACE FIRING SQUAD; LICENSE UNPAID

BERKELEY, Jan. 23.—Five hundred dogs are facing the firing squad in the city of Berkeley. This was the order today of Tax Collector E. V. Gove, who declares unless the many licenses are paid by February 1, orders will be given to shoot all canines without the required license fees.

According to Gove, January 1 has been the time for the payment of licenses, but a month's grace has been given. There are 500 dogs in the city of Berkeley, according to official records. Only 400 owners have paid for licenses to date.

Dangerous Old Well Found in Alameda

ALAMEDA, Jan. 23.—Discovery of an uncharted well in Alameda made by small boys, has led to an investigation by local authorities. Today a report came in from the police station that there was an old well at Atlantic avenue and Nason street and that it was a menace to pedestrians. None of the city maps showed a well at that point. Eugene C. Mallory, building inspector, investigated and found that there was a well in that locality. Small boys had scraped away the earth and boarded that covered the mouth of the well for many years.

"College Night" At University Success

BERKELEY, Jan. 23.—That the bright lights have no attraction for college students was evidenced Saturday night when the most successful "College Night" ever held on the university campus was staged. More than 2500 students attended the dance which inaugurated the spring semester on the campus. Motion pictures were also shown, the proceeds of the evening being $400 to the college entertainment fund.

BRIG. GEN. POPE DIES

Owl Dog Barks All Night, Sleeps All Day; Citizens Growl

That dog in the vicinity of the 3200 block on Galindo street is still barking, despite impassioned pleas to the commissioner of public health and safety.

It barks all night. The life of the city teems around it, deaths, weddings, murders, dances, accidents, good fortune and ill fortune come to folks in the course of the life of the city dwellers, but the dog barks on. It competes with the music of dances, the crowing of roosters and the clatter of milk canisters as the shivering milkman makes his rounds. Dawn comes, but the dog keeps barking. Then, in broad daylight, when folks are up and ready to chase it, the dog shuts up.

That dog, according to Galindo street residents, is becoming not only a nuisance but a mystery. Who is it? Whose dog? Silence answers. That is in the day time.

Commissioner Frank Colburn, head of the department of public health and safety, is getting worried about it. His jurisdiction is this barking dog. He has come under the province of public health.

Does it affect the public safety? Hardly.

The police department, burdened with all these matters, has been put on the trail. That, asserts Colburn, is all he can do.

Woman Pioneer of Berkeley Passes

BERKELEY, Jan. 23.—After an illness of some months Mrs. Lizzie Morton Frisbie, widow of George C. Frisbie, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Hamilton, wife of the principal of the Washington school, 2636 Hilgard avenue. Mrs. Frisbie was 63 years old and a member of a pioneer family of California, having been born in San Francisco. She formerly resided in Napa.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Hamilton, she is survived by another Mrs. Ruth Frisbie Kabel, and a son, Edward. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the undertaking parlors of Frank Berg, 1936 University avenue.

College Night At University Success

BERKELEY, Jan. 23.—That the bright lights have no attraction for college students was evidenced Saturday night when the most successful "College Night" ever held on the university campus was staged. More than 2500 students attended the dance which inaugurated the spring semester on the campus. Motion pictures were also shown, the proceeds of the evening being $400 to the college entertainment fund.

BATTLE OVER 11TH STREET STILL RAGES

Shall People Walk a Block or Lose the Cannery, Proves Tough Problem for the City Council to Agree Upon

Another hearing on the question of closing East Eleventh street to give ground for the Prince Canning Company was staged before the city council today. After heated arguments, the matter was set over ten days to give the city attorney time to make a thorough investigation as to whether this giving up of a public street is allowable by the city.

The meeting was held in the presence of several hundred East Oakland property owners.

The Prince Canning company, through its attorneys, presented a written promise of what it will do in return for Eleventh street. This included paying East Ninth and Tenth streets and improving Twenty-eighth avenue, as well as, all necessary sewers and curbs.

"These are beautiful, glittering generalities and promises," charged Attorney A. P. Slatvater, for the other side.

The position of the city in the matter has been stated and was reiterated: Shall the people walk an extra block or lose a cannery? City Attorney Leon Gray was requested to look into every phase of this question.

A protest against the proposed new scenic railway was made before the council by North Oakland residents, who said the old one was noisy enough, and if the new one were to be worse. The matter was referred to Commission Colburn.

City Auditor Harry Williams again rejected the bill of $200 medical and hospital services for R. L. Hunt, an injured fireman, though the city council had approved the bill over his head. Williams asserts there is doubt as to whether Hunt was injured through negligence or not, and holds that "no mention was made of the injury in the fire chief's original report." Williams says he "wants to determine who is responsible for the payment of such bills." The matter was referred to the city attorney.

Brothers Held On Separate Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Two brothers, charged with different offenses, appeared today before Police Judge Sylvain Lazarus, and both were held to answer to the Superior Court. The case was Charles C. Bishop, accused by the St. Francis hotel of passing a fictitious check, and Angus I. Bishop, charged with embezzlement by Elmer E. Evans, secretary of the California State Federation of Brotherhood of Railway Clerks. They are alleged to have committed the crime while soliciting for that organization. Both were arrested in Los Angeles.

Line to Vallejo

A CALL was issued today for a meeting of stockholders of the Western Pacific Railway in Wilmington, Delaware, on February 20 to sanction expenditure of $1,000,000 or more for the immediate construction of a feeder to its system from Sacramento to Vallejo. The new line will, it is understood, be an electric affair and in reality an extension of the Sacramento Northern Electric road running from Sacramento to Chico, which was recently acquired by the Western Pacific interests. The new line will tap some rich fruit production districts. A side line is expected to run to Clarksburg.

4 Billion Feet
Of Lumber to Be Cut in 30 Years

Hutchinson Railway Plans
Unfolded in Dispute in Butte County.

Special to THE TRIBUNE.
GROSVILLE, Jan. 23.—Plans for the Hutchinson Lumber company's operation of a 4-billion-foot tract of land in Butte County, California, are being unfolded by R. L. Hutchinson, president of the company, in the contest between the California Development company and the Hutchinson Lumber company over the construction of a three-hundred-foot dam at Bidwell Bar by the Yuba Development company.

The Hutchinson Lumber company is opposing a permit for the construction of a dam on the ground that it would flood its railroad to a depth of one hundred and seventy feet and would require a huge expenditure on the part of the lumber company of a million and a half dollars.

Present Hutchinson stated that the purpose of his company was to log all lands clear which were adapted for fruit culture, but that all other lands were to be logged to enable permanent operations of the company's mill. He testified that in his opinion there was sufficient timber in the area served by the railroad to enable lumbering on a permanent basis.

GOES OVER EMBANKMENT.

The accident in which Madenros lost his life occurred near Sebastopol. Six persons were riding in the car, returning from a dance at Sebastopol. Lewis was driving. The machine skidded over a twelve-foot embankment, throwing the occupants out. Madenros was pinned beneath the wreckage. The injured were taken to a Santa Rosa hospital. Parker was an occupant of the car.

Kiser was injured when his automobile skidded from the highway near Lakeview and overturned. His wife was riding with him, but was unhurt.

Brackcamp and Rinford were treated at the emergency hospital, San Jose, for injuries sustained when a motorcycle driven by Rinford was struck by an automobile driven by Frank Nover of Hamilton avenue, west of San Jose. The accident took place at the intersection of Willow and Curtis avenues. Myamoto is in the East Columbia hospital. San Jose, suffering from injuries sustained when he drove his automobile directly into the path of a First street car, near Ashby street, San Jose.

CAR WRECK MYSTERY.

Mystery surrounds the complete wrecking of an automobile owned and driven by Lawrence Keller of 420 Lincoln avenue, San Jose at an early hour yesterday morning. Shortly before 2 o'clock, a patrolman leaving C. Hines was notified by residents in the vicinity of Thirteenth and William streets that screams were being heard in that district. Officers investigating the cause of the outcry found an automobile overturned in East William street near Thirteenth, after having smashed a telephone pole off at the base. Keller admitted that he and a party of friends, including several girls, had been in the car. Krewson was pinned beneath the wrecked machine, which he was driving north on the Alviso road, struck a second machine driven by L. A. Norton of Sunnyvale at the junction of the Broken road.

RECKLESS DRIVERS.

An automobile crash at Waller and Scott streets, San Francisco, yesterday morning sent the driver, Arthur Olsen, 1944 Army street, to jail on a charge of reckless driving, and Scrom, a passenger, to the hospital. The machine crashed into an iron pole.

Pressed into emergency service, the San Francisco central emergency hospital ambulance early yesterday made possible the capture of Peter Clary, 409 Laguna street. Clary was charged with reckless driving, and was captured by attaches of the hospital in the ambulance after they followed him for several blocks. Police say he drove away from an accident, leaving several persons pinned beneath a wrecked machine.

The accident occurred at Eleventh and Harrison streets, San Francisco. Th persons injured were the Zanders and Miss Dewar.

FIREMEN ARE THANKED.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 23.—Captain Gus Wagner of the Alameda Fire department is in receipt of a letter of appreciation from the directors of the City's Training Home. The directors expressed their thanks to the fire department for a party given for the girls at the Webb street fire house shortly after Christmas.

LAKE MERRITT DREDGE NOISES END FOR TIME

The little municipal dredger on Lake Merritt has now quit for a time, and apartment house dwellers on the north end of the lake, who have been complaining, will now make up for lost sleep.

The north end of the lake is "done," insofar as it can be done, for several months. The mud and gravel needed for the new lake-side boulevard has been thrown into place and nothing else can be done until this new-made ground settles.

Meantime, in moving to the southern end of the lake, the dredgermen discovered that a new and softer species of mud reposes on the bottom, so the machinery of the dredger is being magnified to take care of that. While these minor alterations are going on, the dredger crew is laying pipe and completing preparations for the work near the auditorium.

It is expected that the dredger will be laid up about two weeks.

HERE ARE RULES OF THE CONTEST.

Contest closes at midnight, February 28.

COUNTY THIRD AMONG STATE'S ILLITERATES

In a compilation of figures concerning illiteracy in California, just issued by Will C. Woods, state superintendent of schools, it is shown that California has 55,952 illiterates, or 3.3 per cent of the population. Alameda county is rated third highest in illiterates, with a total of $305.

San Francisco has $320 and Los Angeles 18,700. Oakland has 4533 illiterates, according to the report. Woods' report shows that of the illiterates in California, only $747 are native whites, while 69,765 are foreigners. The rest are Africans or members of races other than white.

Oakland's comparatively large number of illiterates is credited to the fact that it has a large proportion of foreigners.

SON OF U. C. SAVANT HURT IN RUGBY GAME

BERKELEY, Jan. 23.—Russell W. Reed, young son of Professor Reed, head of the department of the university, is recovering from injuries sustained in a Rugby football game played at Grenoble, southern France, according to word received here.

With his parents, young Reed is spending the year of Professor Reed's sabbatical leave from the university in Europe. He is placed at a school near Grenoble, where, as a member of the school team, he was injured in a football game. Professor and Mrs. Reed, who had planned to go on to Paris, postponed their trip.

News of young Reed's injuries was brought by Professor Harold L. Bruce, who has just returned from France. Reed was a member of the Berkeley High school football team last year.

Miners Urge Loring To Oppose Stephens

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—Mine owners and mine workers throughout the state are making a determined effort to place at a suit filed today by Philip and Maude S. Vireon against E. T. Duffin and his wife, Rose Duffin, and J. McIntosh, a real estate agent. The plaintiffs assert that after exchanging four lots in Laurel Grove Park, Oakland, for a 200-acre ranch in Calaveras county on the supposition that the latter was worth $6000, and going to live on the ranch, they discovered that it was worth only $4000, and encumbered with mortgages aggregating $3700. They ask return of their Oakland property.

Real Estate Fraud Is Claimed in Suit

Misrepresentation in a real estate transaction involving property in Oakland and in Calaveras county is charged in a suit filed today by Philip and Maude S. Vireon against E. T. Duffin and his wife, Rose Duffin, and J. McIntosh, a real estate agent. SCREEN AUTHOR COMES TO OWN AS ART GROWS

Public Begins to Demand Story Star As Film Favorite Before.

By EDWIN JUSTUS MAYER.

Recent developments in the world of motion-pictures are the signs of an approaching revolutionary change in cinematic concepts. This is the opinion of many officials high in the shadow world. Fair Fan, you who are also writing a scenario-story for The TRIBUNE, and white collar slave, attendant upon the Fair Fan, you may not know it, you are probably too engrossed with each other to realize it, but your tastes are beginning to change. Slowly, subtly, but surely your impressions relative to motion-pictures are fading to a new color with an entirely new background. You are being true to art, and false to outworn ideas associated with the personalities of the screen. The day of the star is not over, but the day of the story is here.

When the people first discovered the cinema as an entertainment, they flocked to it to see children, blondes, kittens, ingenuities, cuteness, actresses who make the shadow world of drama. Out of these crude conditions grew the star system—a system not without genuine reasons for being, but so over-accentuated in many ways that it has contributed other elements than progress to the screen.

Have you a favorite screen author? If you haven't, it is very likely that you will have within a short time, just as you have a favorite screen actor or actress—depending on your sex. It may interest you to know that Ilex Beach is rated as a "star" by exhibitors, although he has never appeared in a professional way on the screen. But today there is a definite public which demands ware of Beach just as it demands the personality of Geraldine Farrar, or Mabel Normand, or Will Rogers, or any other of the stellar figures who make the shadow world a radiant one, a romantic and strange one. The author, after many vicissitudes, is coming into his own on the screen.

ANSWERING QUERIES.

ESTELLE L. CAMERON—There is no reason why mention of time and place is necessary in your manuscript. It is always well to fix both in the minds of the reader, but your contribution will be considered without it.

C. W. DE WET—Manuscripts must be the work of the writer. You may enter the story you speak of as your own. If it is to be entered as your son's, it must be his work entirely.

HENRY ATER—Manuscripts may be any length up to 200 words. However, it will be difficult to tell the right kind of a scenario-story in less than 1000 words.

C. K.—Contestants may submit as many manuscripts as they desire.

MADELINE M. LENER—You retain the rights in your scenario and may sell it, at conclusion of contest.

PACKERS BLAMED FOR HIGH PRICES BY MEAT DEALERS

Shop Owners Say Cattlemen and Slaughterer Will Be Shown Up in Drive.

The retail meat dealers operate on a smaller margin of profit than almost any other business in the state and the cattlemen and the packers are making "goats" of the retailers.

This was the statement of Arthur Milnthorpe of Sacramento, state president of the Retail Meat Dealers' Association, at a meeting of the executive committee today when it was decided to form a "meat council" at once, to inform the public of the facts of high meat costs.

The meat dealers also went on record for a drive against itinerant peddlers who, it was said, have been canvassing the residence district selling hams and bacon at reduced prices. The dealers declared that many of these articles are "unfit for human consumption."

Among those who attended the local meeting, in addition to Milnthorpe, were Henry F. Heiser, first vice-president, Los Angeles; Louis P. Cooper, second vice-president, San Jose; Charles E. Edsberg, third vice-president, Fairfax; treasurer, George P. Voerk, Sacramento; A. P. Bacigalupi, sergeant-at-arms, San Jose; J. B. Muir, secretary, Oakland; A. Shapiro, chairman of the board, San Francisco; Thomas Fox, secretary of the Butchers' Board of Trade, San Francisco; R. N. Weiss, San Francisco; O. R. Ludwig, head of the Meat Dealers' Association of Contra Costa county, Richmond; G. W. Atkinson, Sacramento; O. Stockton, Stockton, and Charles Miller, Oakland.

The dealers will meet again in February to choose the next convention city. Meanwhile action will be taken on the campaign by the executive committee.

Mystery Surrounds Aged Couple's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 23.—An investigation into the asphyxiation of Felix Lustenberger, aged 60, and Mrs. Mathias Moffitt, aged 70, is being made by the local police. The bodies were found yesterday in a room at 1512 York street. The room was full of gas.

Lustenberger had been missing for a week. Hugh Devine, 1137 Florida street, and Leland Berger, 1133 Florida street, friends of Lustenberger's, found the bodies. Gas was escaping from open burners of the gas stove in the kitchen. In the bedroom adjoining, the bodies were found.

Mrs. Moffitt is said to have been worth about $10,000. She is declared to have been the divorced wife of J. K. Moffitt, a ship calker. Mrs. Moffitt was acting as housekeeper for Lustenberger, who was a stevedore.

"Baby Doll" on Stage Has Gone, Declares Adele Blood

ADELE BLOOD, former Oakland actress, who says "baby doll's" day has passed

That the day of the "baby doll" is passed, both on the legitimate stage and on the motion picture screen, is the opinion of Adele Blood, famous beauty and actress, who is at the Hotel St. Francis, when a famous artist once described as "the beautiful ideal of Western Womanhood," has wide experience as an actress. She said:

"The public nowadays is very tired of insipid 'baby doll' looks. It wants actresses who can act—women of fish and blood who can express on the stage and on the screen the deepest reactions of the human soul. The public has become educated. Where, in former days, but one man or woman in ten had any idea at all about stagecraft, today men and

OAKLAND HUNTS W. J. KIEFER TO PAY HIM MONEY

Inability to Locate Property Owner Holds Up Work on Monticello Avenue.

Will someone please page William J. Kiefer, formerly of Branscomb, Mendocino county? The city of Oakland wants to give him some money. Kiefer owns a small tract of land along the line of the future Monticello avenue extension, where the city wants to cut a street through from Fitchburg to Fleming avenues. All the other property owners have been interviewed, and purchases or condemnation proceedings have been completed. All except Kiefer's property.

Advices from Mendocino assert that Kiefer has come to Oakland for the winter, but the city officials cannot find him.

"It is holding up the whole street opening proceeding," says City Attorney Leon E. Gray. "Until Kiefer's property can be negotiated for, nothing can be done about this improvement. Strenuous search fails to find him. We are waiting for Kiefer."

It is believed that Kiefer is staying at some hotel. Meantime, Monticello avenue improvements are "marking time."

Fight Over Contract Is Aired in Court

The question as to whether a modification of a contract violates the contract as a whole is to be decided by Superior Judge James G. Quinn in a suit filed today by Darryl M. Thomasson, saleswoman, against her former employer, Samuel Korn of Chicago. The plaintiff declares that last January she entered into a year's contract with Korn to work in his Chicago store at a salary and a $250 bonus at the end of the year. Last June, she says, the defendant agreed to give her 1 per cent of her gross sales instead of the $250. In August, she says, he broke the contract by discharging her. She asks $700, the amount she would have earned during the remainder of her contract period.

Decision in the suit will hinge on whether or not the contract was rendered invalid by reason of the modification in its terms.

Karlists Too Busy House Prologued

BERKELEY, Jan. 23 (By the Associated Press).—Premier Bethlen has decided to prorogue the Hungarian National Assembly until February 1st, upon which date its powers will expire. This action was taken because of the deputies friendly to former Emperor Karl.

Count Rakowsky read a letter in the assembly yesterday in which Karl pleaded himself, in case he should return to the Hungarian throne, not to accept the crown of any other country without the consent of the Hungarian government.
